The Interim Process

The interim process is a spiritually rich and dynamic time. The interim allows time for the congregation to grieve the departure of one pastor, to sort through its history, mission and vision, and to prepare for a new pastor. The interim process is what I am trained and called to serve. As part of that calling, I will not be a candidate for your next settled pastor.

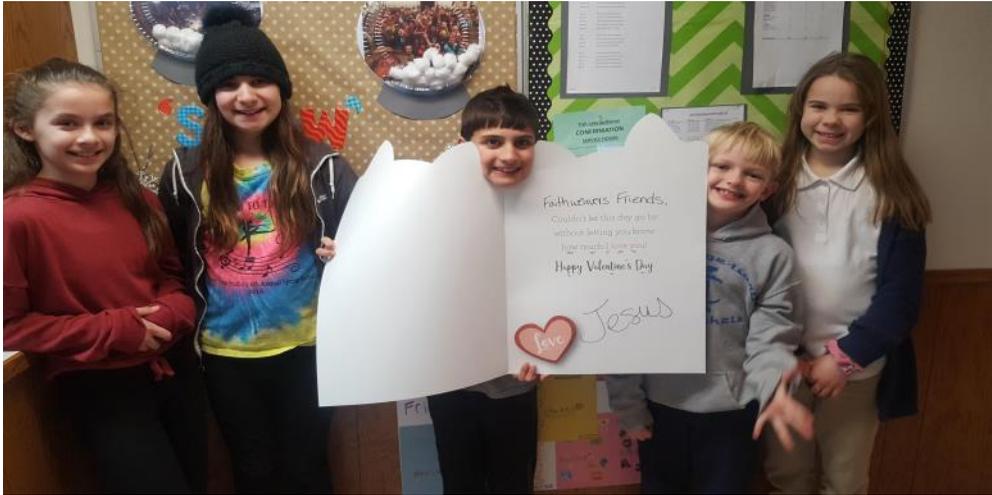

Each interim, like each congregation, is also unique. As I begin my interim ministry with the people of Fish Lake, I seek to listen to your stories and discover your strengths and challenges. As a temporary shepherd, I seek to understand this flock and to provide the care and compassion that Christ calls me to provide. I will be especially sensitive to the possible grief and sadness surrounding Pastor Amanda Applehans' departure. Her ministry was relatively short, yet rich. Feel free to contact me at the church office for a face-to-face conversation if you desire.

Having just completed an interim pastorate in St. Paul where I helped two neighboring congregations explore sharing a pastor, I am aware of the benefits (as well as the struggles) of smaller congregations sharing ministry, especially around financing the cost of an experienced pastor. After my interim year at St. Mark and St. Luke, the two congregations decided to call a pastor together, each retaining their own building and worship, but sharing the financial costs of a pastor. I realize that Fish Lake may decide NOT to share a pastor with any neighboring church, but I think that there may be great value in sharing ministry (like a shared mission trip) and that the leaders should at least talk about possibilities. No decisions about pastors would be made without considerable congregational conversations and votes.

Also during my time at Fish Lake I will be helping the leaders and members to prepare a document called the Ministry Site Profile (MSP) which will be used to call a new pastor. The MSP is a multi-page multi-faceted document used throughout the ELCA to describe in detail the history, present mission and future vision of congregations. Pastoral candidates will use the MSP to learn about Fish Lake prior to interviewing with a call committee. The Saint Paul Area Synod will not provide names of potential candidates until the MSP is completed and approved by the council. As the MSP nears completion, a call committee will need to be selected.

A critical component of the interim process is prayer. Like you, I desire the best pastoral candidate for Fish Lake. Part of my daily prayer is for the Holy Spirit to prepare the congregation, call committee and candidates. Please join me in praying that God will stir the right candidate for this unique congregation. As Jesus promised, "If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask for whatever you wish, and it will be done for you" (John 15:7). Together let us unite in our prayers for God's will to be done here at Fish Lake Lutheran Church.

A message from Sr. LaDonna...

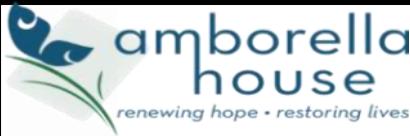

Recently I was sitting with a person who had gone through a tragedy in his life. He was heartbroken and at one point blurted out a question we can all recognize, “Where is God in all this?” It’s a question that goes beyond those times when we are in grief.

Where can God be found? We would probably answer that God can be found in church and that is certainly true. Or we might say “God is in all things”. But what do we really mean by that? Do we experience God in all things?

One of my favorite authors is Margaret Silf. In her book, Compass Points: Meeting God Every Day at Every Turn, she writes: “God is in the big story of our human journey on planet earth, in our origins and in our destiny and in every moment in between. And God is in all the smaller but equally amazing stories of how our individual lives move on, step by step and day by day. God is in the light and in the shadows of our experience, in what we rejoice in and in what we grieve over. God is both the dream we follow and the inspiration for our quest. God is in every choice we make, always urging us, prompting us, and coaxing us to choose life”.

This book contains 137 short meditations on seeing God in everyday events. I highly recommend it, but I also know that you don’t need a book to tell you how God is present in your life. You just need to look and listen and be attentive to what is happening in your day. I think you may be amazed at what you discover.

forward as we continue to partner with you in 2020 and move toward beginning to serve trafficked women!

~Notes of Gratitude to WELCA~

Thank you for including Ecumen in your charitable giving! When you give to Ecumen, you are giving to a nonprofit with nearly 160 years of experience that has evolved over time to meet the changing needs of our communities. Together, with your support, we can continue to address some of our society's toughest challenges. Shelly Kendrick, President & CEO and Heidi Freisinger, Vice President of Philanthropy.

Thank you! The holidays were made brighter for our community by 1,002 individuals who made financial gifts and over 134 local businesses, churches, school and civic groups and hosted Food and Fund Drives in November and December.

Rush City Food Shelf is collecting Condiments during the month of March. Cash contributions are welcome, too, as the buying power of the Food Shelf can stretch each dollar nine times. Items can be left on the round table in the fellowship hall for pick up.

Lois Augusta Colliander
October 20, 1931-February 5, 2020

The family of Lois Colliander would like to thank the Fish Lake Lutheran Community for all of their support over Mom's (Lois's) last year of decline in both body and mind. She appreciated the cards and support that she received. Her many years of Fish Lake Lutheran offered her friendship, volunteerism and a true community of support. She was a true member and was always proud of the beautiful church and the people in it.

Sincerely,

Lowell and Linda Colliander and the entire family

Dear WELCA,

Thank you so much for serving and providing desserts and beverages at mom's funeral. Mom always saw it as an important part of being in the congregation to work and help families of the church when they lost loved ones. We also see how important the work you do is.

The Colliander family
